1800

COMBE, Mayor.

Manſion-Houſe, Sept. 17, 1800.

WHEREAS the Peace of this City has been, within theſe few Days, very much diſturbed by numerous and tumultuous Aſſemblies of Riotous and Diſorderly People, The MAGISTRATES, determined to preſerve the King's Peace, and the Perſons and Property of their Fellow-Citizens, by every Means which the Law has entruſted to their Hands, particularly requeſt the peaceable and well-diſpoſed Inhabitants of this City, upon the Appearance of the Military, to keep themſelves away from the Windows; to keep all the Individuals of their Families and Servants within Doors; and, where ſuch Opportunities can be taken, to remain in the Back Rooms of their Houſes.

By Order of His Lordſhip.

W. L. NEWMAN, Clerk.

Printed by H. L. Galabin, Ingram-Court, London.